This Agreement ("Agreement") For Company Services and/or Product, is intended to set forth the general terms and conditions pursuant to which our company, (hereinafter referred to as "Company") agrees to provide Company Services and/or Product, to you (hereinafter referred to as the "Purchaser" or "Client").

W I T N E S S E T H:

WHEREAS, Company develops and intends to market Internet Services and Products to Purchasers.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and the mutual covenants of this Agreement, the parties hereto agree as follows:

COMPANY SERVICE AND/OR PRODUCT

The Company, provides you the Client, a service product (referred to as Product). The service product, depending on the Client's contract with Company, may include building blogs and social profile pages. The blogs can use RSS feeds from other sources as content. The Product is based, in part, on permissions from third party companies and programs. You, the Client, understand and agree, that in the event those companies or programs cease operations, withdraw permissions, or change programs, that the Product may no longer function as originally intended, designed or marketed. You further understand and agree that those circumstances are beyond our Company's control and our Company will not be held responsible. You, the Client, further understand and agree such unforeseen events will not be the basis for any refunds. If you do not agree, do not use Company's service.

Company, in some instances, utilizes "credits" as a means for Company clients to purchase certain Company services. Company credits may be paid credits or earned bonus credits. Company credits have no monetary value, are not refundable, and are not usable or transferable to any other person or other Company services, except those services specifically designated by Company at the time the credit is accumulated.

Earned bonus credits must be used within ninety (90) days of being available in the Company system. Any and all earned bonus credits not used within said ninety (90) days expire and are forfeited, without notice or compensation.

Paid credits can only accrue to a maximum number of six (6), regardless of the client's membership term, or fees paid by the client. Paid membership credits, if not used, are not rolled over and/or accumulated beyond the maximum allowable number of six (6). All paid membership credits must be used within thirty (30) days of a client leaving the Company program/membership site. Any and all paid membership credits not used within thirty (30) days of a client leaving the Company program/membership site expire and are forfeited, without notice or compensation.

Client agrees that Company has the final decision in resolving any disputes that may arise under its services, whether relating to credits or otherwise.

CLIENT BEARS RISK OF USE

Search engine algorithms run on a unique combination of advanced hardware and software and are not made public. A risk of exclusion from a search engine exists when a search engine views your Web site(s) as an unfair manipulation of their service. Many search engine strategies, to improve search engine placement, including the information presented here, and the Company service and Product, poses such a risk. Use the Company services, Products, techniques and strategies at your own risk. You, the Client, agree Company shall have no liability for any adverse consequences for your use of Company services and Products.

Company's sole obligation under this agreement is the delivery of a functional Product and Company disclaims any and all further obligation, once a functional Product is delivered to Client, including but not limited to any liability for the Product Web site being banned by the search engines, the Client updating, adding to, or changing the site, or loss of the Product in whatever manner, including failure to not back up the Product Web site and data.

Client agrees and understands the possibility, that Company may already be in Client's market with Company's own competing Web sites or may enter Client's market in the future, with competing Company Web sites. You, the Client, agree, that Company may already have similar or competing Product Web sites or may enter Client's market in the future, with competing Company Web sites. If you, the Client, do not agree to a possible, existing or future competition, then you have the option to not disclose your market to Company and to not use Company's service.

Client understands Company may utilize third party "free to use" templates, that may have certain restrictions on use, such as not removing the "theme designed by" links, or the theme builder using copyrighted images, or other restrictions reflected in the third party Terms of Service . Upon Company's delivery of Company Product to Client, Client agrees Company is not responsible for any adverse consequences to Client, for changes to Product or to Web sites made by Client.

Client understands Company Web site and Articles may contain links to third party websites that are not owned or controlled by Company and Company assumes no responsibility for, the content, privacy policies, or practices of any third party Web sites, and Client expressly relieves Company from any and all liability arising from the use of any third-party links and/or Web sites.

Further, Client understands that Company or Company Product, may display third party links, in RSS feeds or otherwise. Said third party links may contain links to other Services ("Linked Services"). The Linked Services are not under the control of Company and Company is not responsible for the contents of the Linked Services, including, without limitation, links contained on Linked Services, or any changes or updates to Linked Services. Company is providing Linked Services to you only as a convenience, or displayed in RSS feeds, or otherwise, and the inclusion of such Linked Services is not an endorsement by Company in favor of any company offering Internet services, products or services on the Linked Services.

Company Web site, Company Product, articles and RSS feed content and articles may contain links to third party websites, that are not owned or controlled by Company and Company assumes no responsibility for, the content, privacy policies, or practices of any third party websites, and Client expressly relieves Company from any and all liability arising from the use of any third-party website.

Client understands Company has consulted with their attorney and there is no bright line legal answer as to whether use of an RSS feed can be considered a copyright violation. It would seem the better argument would be, and many take the position that, making RSS feeds publicly available, thereby grants an implied license of use to RSS feed users. Client understands that the possibility exists that the source of RSS feed content can knowingly or unknowingly be infringing on a copyright owner's copyright. Client expressly relieves Company from any and all liability arising from any claim of copyright infringement from use of Company's Service or Product, whether the result of content displayed in an RSS feed or otherwise.

The Digital Millennium Copyright Act (DMCA) is a United States federal law, that provides a safe harbor to online service providers, that promptly takes down content, if someone alleges that said content infringes their copyrights, provided they have properly followed the provisions of the DMCA requirements on their Web site.

Company strongly recommends that Client comply with, and put ALL the protections of the Digital Millennium Copyright Act (DMCA), in place on their Web sites, as federal law does not excuse, or provide immunity to, so called "innocent" copyright infringement claims, from liability under federal statutes.

Client understands Company is not providing legal advice and Company advises Client to consult with their own attorney for legal advice.

Additional Terms. Other Provisions that govern your use of Company services are set forth in online notices appearing in connection with certain information, products, software, services, or features of Company (collectively the "Additional Terms"), all of which are incorporated by reference herein. Your use of any information, products, software, services, or features of Company that are subject to Additional Terms constitutes your acceptance of the respective Additional Terms.
